

Water. Innovation. Entrepreneurship.

Building the future of water entrepreneurship in the Middle East cewas Middle East, a regional branch of the Swiss NGO cewas, was established in 2013 to foster innovation and sustainability in the water and environmental sector. Since then, cewas has been working on the development and implementation of entrepreneurial approaches by building an enabling ecosystem, offering technical assistance, tailor-made coaching and trainings as well as finance support. Until today, cewas Middle East has supported over 100 enterprises across the region; built a wide network of local, regional and international partners supporting environmental entrepreneurship; and developed and implemented a broad range of curricula to enhance knowledge among water and sanitation actors and generate demand in humanitarian and development markets.

cewas Middle East is present with offices in Jordan, Lebanon, Kurdistan Region of Iraq and Palestine. Through partners and short-term projects, cewas Middle East also works in other countries of the region, such as Egypt and Iraq.

We are a team of water and environmental experts with in-depth experience in entrepreneurship. All support services offered by cewas are fully implemented by the local and international cewas team.
